COGIC Dept. of Health Brings Facilitators from Across the Country to Inaugural Conference

(August 24, 2007 — Nashville, Tenn.) COGIC Department of Health (CDH) held its inaugural Facilitators Conference at the Gaylord Opryland Hotel this week to kick off the company's Community Health Initiative and the marketing of its supporting products.

The Regional Facilitators will assist the CDH in its mission to improve the overall health and wellness of the Church Of God In Christ community through education combined with the most cost-effective services available. Facilitators will work through coordinators at local churches to provide products and services to their members.

“The facilitators will help the churches to unify financially by implementing programs such as the debit card program at their local churches and in their communities,” said Readus Smith, Director of Health for the CDH. “Our vision is for our churches to become financially unified and its members to be blessed through affordable products and services. The facilitators are the key to the success of these programs.”

Two commemorative debit cards are being offered to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Church Of God In Christ (COGIC). The centennial cards, accepted worldwide, are easy to load and require no credit check. The COGIC Centennial Debit MasterCard is a keepsake card that is imprinted with the name of the user and bears the image of COGIC founder Bishop Charles Harrison Mason. The STAR commemorative card also bears the image of the church founder and can be used at any STAR ATM throughout the United States.
